

VERDICT

I would not trade this strategy with my own money because as we can see on how it performed on the INFY stock it led to a loss over a timespan of 1 year

Moving averages don't really predict much instead they tell us more about the past and are inherently lagging indicators. Over the 47 logged trades it created only 10 winners

I don't have enough financial knowledge to be able to tell what kind of markets this strategy would work on but I am very keen on learning
